DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-4, 8-16, 18/1 and 18/11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Schaer et al. (US 6522930). Schaer et al. disclose an ablation catheter comprising a porous conductor (col. 18 line 15+), a catheter shaft that includes a proximal portion, a distal portion, at least one lumen adapted to carry wires (figure 3), an active region (58) including a plurality of portholes (62). Regarding claims 13 & 14 see figure 13.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 19/1, 19/11, 20/1 and 20/11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schaer et al. Schaer teaches all of the limitations of the claims except the cross-section configuration having a polygonal configuration. To have provided a polygonal cross sectional configuration would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known shape on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice.

Claims 5-7, 17, 18/17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schaer et al. further in view of Stewart et al. (US 2003/0130713). Schaer et al. teach all of the limitations of the claims except a shape retention wire mounted in the second lumen. Stewart et al. disclose a similar device and teach that it is well known in the art to provide a shape retention wire within a catheter as a retention mechanism to engage the heart and inhibit retraction of the device (paragraph 0014+). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include a shape memory wire in the Schaer et al. catheter to provide a means of retaining the device in contact with the heart.
